 - Explore hands on training

- Get experience setting up lambda, S3, DynamoDB
 - Shows step by step how to set everything up
- Not everyone has to know node.js
 - Be comfortable enough to develop the front end
- Who wants front end, backend, middle tier?
 - Groups of 1 or 2 on each level
 - Must keep in mind that it all comes together into one UI at the end
- Before Friday
 - Should have an idea of who wants to do what, form teams
 - Based on experience and interest
 - May be in more than one team
 - Just collaborate and communicate!
 - Teams of 1 or 2
 - As you form a team
 - Go through trainings relevant to what team you are on and what you want to work on
 - Lambda, GitHub, etc.
 - Collaborate for all of this on slack
 - Decide on python or NodeJS for lambda
- We will have stand ups following scrum methodology
 - Look at user stories
 - Individual units of work
 - Ex:
 - Stories:
 - Setting up acct
 - Creating function
 - Set up logging
 - As you finish a story, you move onto the next
 - Discuss impediments and address them
 - Possibly Fridays @ 4PM
 - Hoping for 1-3 meetings a week
 - Will be 15-minute meetings
 - Just checking everyone's status
- Write code, pass to lambda function through API Gateway
- Where to store and view user stories for standup meetings
 - Trello
 - Jira
 - Cedric will talk to David about figuring out what tool we are using
 - Want to start assigning user stories by next week
 - We should be adding comments that Cedric can view to see if we are having any impediments
- We will have different repos
